HISTORY

'Tis said, "A picture is worth a thousand words." So here in seven pictures are the seven thousand words of our class history— Only we can know them!

Last Will

To Lloyd Kinsley, Nathan Adams leaves his beard.
To Lillian Helminger, Shirley Beaver leaves her calm ways.
To Eugene Thrasher, Care Berry leaves his physique.
To Cleon Karge, Frank Bendinsky leaves his loving ways.
To James Powers, Patsy Chevrik leaves her ability in Latin.
To Ruth Sheerer, Patsy Cox leaves her tight skirts.
To Dale Trick, Bill Durland leaves his title "King Turnpike".
To Virginia Bullock, Linda Evangelisti leaves her "Italian temper".
To Melvin Karge, John Hoodak leaves his old sweat socks.
To Lorraine Taylor, Alex Kleiner leaves his lazy ways.
To Jack Caccia, Pete Kratoski leaves his "hookey" record.
To Annemarie Darcey, Rose Lukachik leaves her jokes.
To Rita Adamovich, Catherine McDonald leaves her happy ways.
To James Powers, Danny Lee O'Donnell leaves his sideburns.
To Lorraine Taylor, Betty Ann Ojdkiaski leaves her goose pimples.
To Rose Smith, Anna Rodriguez leaves her position as treasurer.
To Joan Vogel, Joan Saunders leaves her fancy earrings.
To Gloria Silvestrini, Yvonne Skanoski leaves her neckerchiefs.
To Ruth Sheerer, Mary Alice Vogel leaves her shyness.
To Rose Smith, Rita Weisbrod leaves her piano playing ability.
To Jack Caccia, Shirley White leaves her forgetfulness.
To Paul Bednar, Bernice Yorkin leaves her fancy walk.
To the Junior Class, the Senior Class leaves its reputations.

Neither signed, nor sealed, nor delivered in the presence of any one, this 19th day of November, 1953.
